

CHRISTMAS 2007

This Christmas finds a lot of us not thinking of the season
There are many things now on your plate, none are a valid reason

This time is set aside by all, for togetherness and fun
Remembrance of the Christ child, and the things that he has done

I understand there are many things, that try to block our way
The mortgage crunch and many things that try to hide the day

All things in their own time, this saying is always true
This time belongs to Jesus, we must give the Lord his due

This day was chosen, not by man, though they try to make it so
The Lord chose when his son would come, the when and how we know

The things our Jesus went through, to save his children; Man
Our problems simply do not compare, of this we know, what can?

Within each and every one of us the Lord does now reside
He asks us to accept him, to let him share our ride

He's with us through the good times, and shares the very bad
This fact some seem to forget, this I find quite sad

As we share our tables with family and others
Look at it through Gods eyes, they are all our brothers

We should thank the Lord for what we have and the ability to give away
And not look down our nose at those with less, Spread Love This Day!!!

I hope these words find all well. Please let us not forget those less fortunate than we may find ourselves. If you find yourself in an unfortunate situation, lean on family and friends. That is one of the purposes for which we are here, to help our fellow man. Help starts within the circle and then radiates out
